Suizenji Jojuen Garden

A circuit-style garden overflowing with greenery and ambiance

The garden came into being when Hosokawa Tadatoshi, the third successor of the Higo Hosokawa family, who became the first lord of the Kumamoto domain in 1632, built a tea house. It was later completed at roughly the same scale as today's when Tsunatoshi, the third domain lord, took over. The garden, centering on a pond fed by subsoil water from Mt. Aso, is surrounded by gently undulating mounds and rocks partially submerged in water, allowing visitors to enjoy the beauty of nature and the garden in all four seasons.
